This week we have been discussing what it means to feel vulnerable.

Psalm 139:13-14, Matthew 10:30 our vulnerable world

For Christians, nature can be reminder that God is interested in the very infinite details of their lives and he cares for every part of his world, including each unique human being. The Bible tells Christians that God knew each person before they were born, watched as they grew and even knows how many hairs there are on each person's head! This reminds Christians that God knows everything about each person: mistakes, faults, cracks, good deeds, kind thoughts etc. But God, knows and loves each person just the way they are.
